Bones and harassing a minor.

Hello! As we know, Bones was mostly the reason behind mxbones-critical being taken down. This was the whole “countdown” thing they had going on before they deleted their twitter in 2018 and remade. I’ve been going through old dms and talking with some of the moderators involved with the blog at the time.

The debunk anon even has a post on the subject.

I’m not too sure about the order of certain things, but I’m going to go over what I’ve been sent. Keep in mind that most of this information isn’t in order, but I will be going over what I’ve been sent.

There was a group chat of sorts, with Bones and others involved about Bones attempting to get the owner to delete the blog. I’m going to point something out right now.

Mod Narrator, the owner of the blog? Was a 14 year old. Bones, as a 20 year old, was attempting to harass, gaslight, and manipulate a 14 year old. I don’t care what anyone tries to say, that is fucking creepy and terrible.

Welcome to Nefskullcritique! Please send in any information, good or bad, you have regarding Bones/Sigma/Nef/Volt/etc.

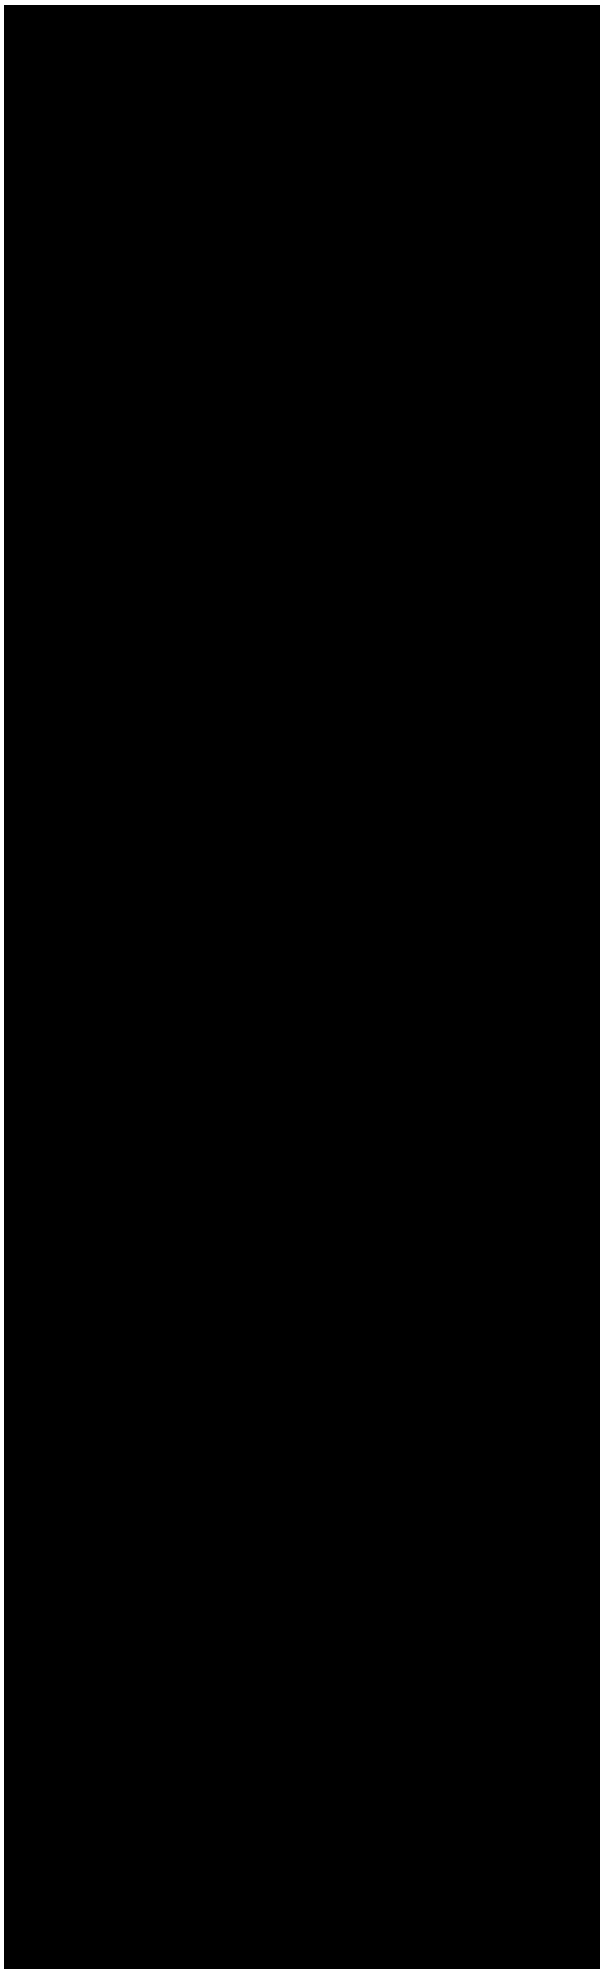
What I know from these, is that both Vic and Amber both “betrayed” the blog in a sense and ended up becoming friends with Bones, or at least defended them.

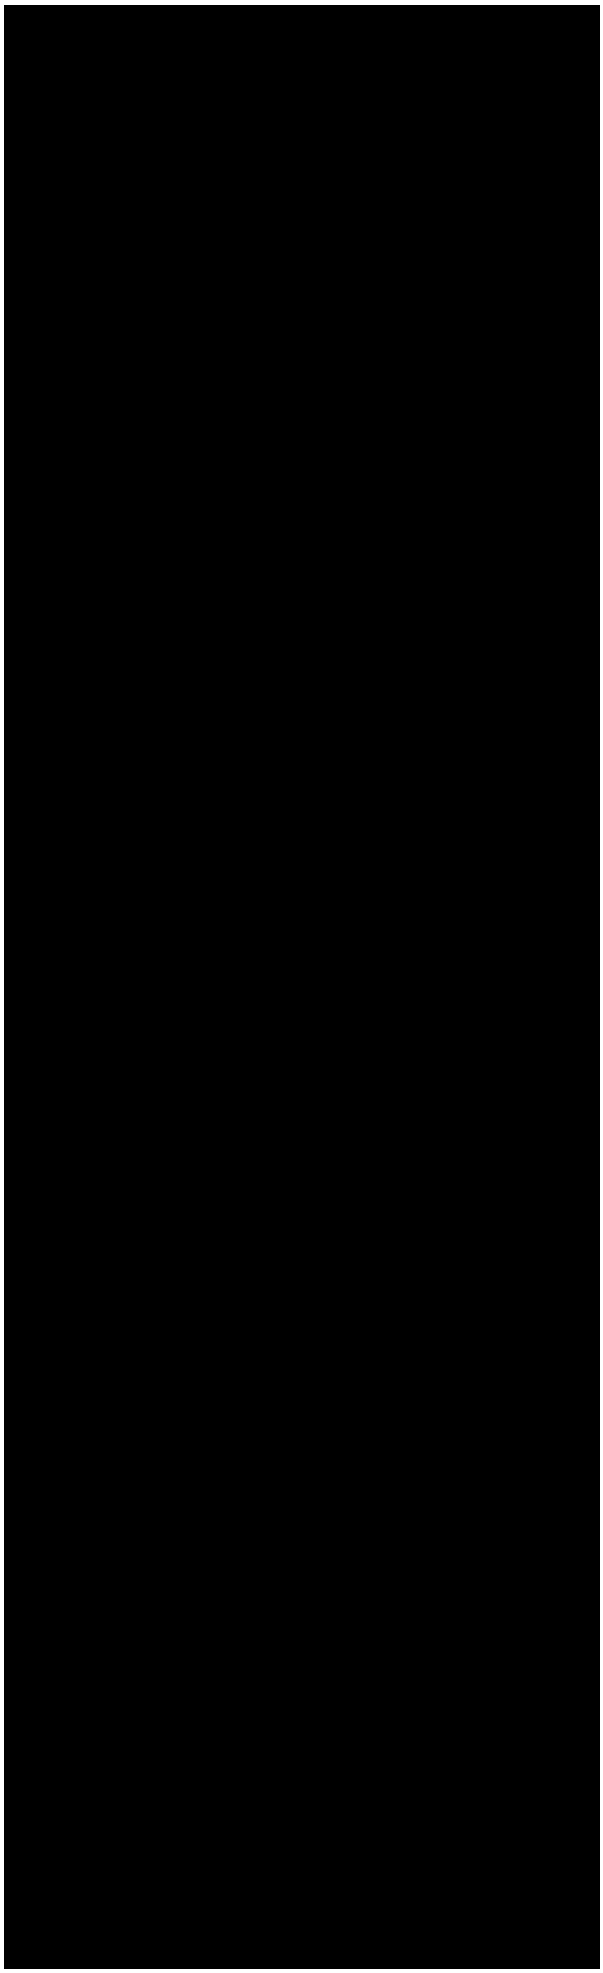
Around this time, everyone was sick of the drama surrounding the blog and it was pretty much abandoned/inactive. However, Bones wanted to push Narrator to delete the blog, which was somewhat impossible to do, as it was a sideblog. As explained in the screenshots, a side blog is hard to delete if there’s other members on it. The only way you’re able to delete a side blog as far as I’m aware, is to be the only remaining admin and to leave.

But, I want to bring attention to the first message. This is disgusting. Why would you say that to a minor? Why would you tell a 14 year old, as a 20 year old, that they have caused you to self harm?

Eventually, the blog was deleted, but this unfortunately couldn’t end here. Why would it be that simple?

Fast forward months later, Narrator explains on a blog unrelated to Bones what happened with mxbones-critical. Someone (not going to tell who) apparently snitched to Bones, making them go on yet another rampage.





I hate how obsessed they are with age. They're saying "You're a 14 year old, I'm obviously more mature than you." NOTHING gives me more red flags than that. I understand that children can be easily influenced and misguided, but that does NOT give you a right to harass them.

Here's where I'd like to bring up the gaslighting.

I've spoken with Narrator, Bones had NOTHING on them. A big giveaway to this being a lie is when they SAY they have something, but they're not going to post it. Narrator did not want any attention or anything, and the blog in question, like I said, only explained what happened with the blog and what Mod V did.

All of this started because there was a side blog with information that didn't want to get lost. Because Bones thought that Narrator was trying to start more drama after the 2018 twitter meltdown.
